Subject: [2015-0346] PeDRA - state of play?

Dear [REDACTED],

I hope this message finds you well.

I was wondering about PeDRA, given that Frontex' target date for the pilot test is approaching quite quickly; if I remember correctly, your IT colleagues wanted to come back to us on the work they did shortly after the holiday period, but as far as I can tell, they haven't so far.

The outcome of the videoconference was:

1. Ok for pilot test, provided Frontex:
 - a. provides what it did (2009 assessment + changes since);
 - b. starts a project to update the assessment and to cover any missing bits.
2. Full assessment should be ready for start of normal production use (meaning among other things that the 2009 assessment should be updated), also taking into account possible changes (to PeDRA and to general risks given evolution of tasks).

Thanks for letting me know!

Best regards,

[REDACTED]
