

EDPS #DEBATINGETHICS CONVERSATIONS

DATA PROTECTION NOTICE

The European Data Protection Supervisor (EDPS) processes your personal data to organise and manage the EDPS #DebatingEthics Conversations.

The EDPS #DebatingEthics Conversations are a series of interactive webinars featuring conversations between EDPS staff members, speakers and other participants. The webinars are accessible live via the zoom.us web page and the zoom.us application. During the live webinars, public participation is possible via an integrated text-messaging feature.

Additionally, audio from the webinars is recorded by EDPS, which may be released publicly in either edited form or in full.

The organisation and management of this activity includes:

- processing invitations and speaking requests;
- managing webinars among participants;
- creating audio recordings of the webinars;
- publishing (edited) recordings on EDPS website, online social channels and distribution platforms.

We process your personal data based on Regulation (EU) 2018/1725 of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data by the Union institutions, bodies, offices and agencies and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 and Decision No 1247/2002/EC (hereinafter “the Regulation”).

The following information is provided as established in Articles 14, 15 and 16 of the Regulation.

Who is the controller?

The controller is the European Data Protection Supervisor (EDPS).

For more information on the EDPS please consult our website: <https://edps.europa.eu>

Who is the processor?

For the technical provision of the webinar, whether through a browser or a mobile application, zoom.us acts as the processor of your personal data.

Zoom.us' data protection notice and other relevant policies are available at: <https://www.zoom.us/legal>. Zoom.us' cookie policy is available at: <https://www.zoom.us/cookie-policy>.

What personal data do we process, who can access it and how long do we keep your personal data?

When you access the live webinar, zoom.us may collect some data on your browser experience, such as your IP address, the webinar you visited, when you visited and the webpage you were redirected from.

For information on how zoom.us processes this personal data, please consult the respective policies.

Please note that all messages and content you share in a webinar, including Personal Data about you or others, will be available to all other participants in that meeting.

If you are a speaker, we additionally process:

- A. Some of your contact details to contact you and invite you to the webinars: first and last name; organisation; e-mail address.

Your contact details may be shared among the speakers of the webinar for networking purposes, based on your consent.

The EDPS might want to keep your contact details in order to invite you to future similar events, based on your consent.

If you do not consent to the processing of your contact details for any of the purposes mentioned above, the EDPS will delete these data at the latest ten working days after your request or after the last event follow-up action.

- B. Speaker information, audio recordings and transcripts of webinars.

Speaker information includes first name; last name; title; biography; affiliation; quotes. Speaker information, audio recordings and transcripts may be published on the EDPS website, online social channels and distribution platforms. They will be archived at the latest 10 years after publication, according to the EDPS archiving policy.

Please note that the webinars are open to the public. The EDPS does not take on any responsibilities for recordings or misuse of your audio contributions carried out by participants.

Why do we process your personal data and under what legal basis?

The lawfulness of processing invitations, participation requests and speaker information is based on Article 5(1)(a) of the Regulation. The applicable legal basis is the Regulation itself, and in particular Articles 57 (b) and (h), which outline the tasks of the EDPS, as well as Article 3 of the EDPS Rules of Procedure.

Recording, storing, transcribing and publishing the audio of the webinars on the EDPS website, online social channels and distribution platforms is based on consent of speakers. The use of cookies and similar technologies is based on consent of users visiting the EDPS' web page and using the zoom.us web page or zoom.us application.

What are your rights regarding your personal data?

You have the right of access to your personal data and to relevant information concerning how we use it. You have the right to rectify your personal data. Under certain conditions, you have the right to ask that we delete your personal data or restrict its use. You have the right to object to our processing of your personal data, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time. We will consider your request, take a decision and communicate it to you.

You can send your request to the EDPS by post in a sealed envelope or use our contact form on the EDPS website (see section on contact details below).

You have the right to lodge a complaint

If you have any remarks or complaints regarding the way we process your personal data, we invite you to contact the EDPS DPO (see section on contact details below).

You have, in any case, the right to lodge a complaint with the EDPS as a supervisory authority: https://edps.europa.eu/data-protection/our-role-supervisor/complaints_en.

Contact details for enquiries regarding your personal data

We encourage you to contact us using the EDPS contact form, selecting 'My personal data' as the relevant subject: <https://edps.europa.eu/node/759>

If you wish to contact the EDPS DPO personally, you can send an e-mail to EDPS-DPO@edps.europa.eu or a letter to the EDPS postal address marked for the attention of the EDPS DPO.

EDPS postal address: European Data Protection Supervisor, Rue Wiertz 60, B-1047 Brussels, Belgium
